

Production/Talent Release

I have taken part in the Duralife® Unlocker Challenge national video competition as a member of the video production team, or as an on-screen or off-screen participant/actor. I agree that my voice, image, likeness, or name may be used in the video, and understand and agree that the video may be displayed publicly by Scranton Products, the contest sponsor, even if the video is not selected to receive an award. Public display of the video includes displaying the video on the Internet and social media, as well as at conferences, trade shows and other professional venues. I understand that my signature on this release constitutes my consent and permission for the video to be used with my talent contribution and that no payment or further consent or permission will be required.
